BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Joseph Staško is an émigré Slovak politician, journalist and retired librarian. He was born on August 1, 1917 in Sedliacka Dubová, Slovakia. He obtained his undergraduate degree from Comenius University in Bratislava, studied at La Soborne (France) between 1935-1942, and received his Ph.D. in French Literature and Language, from the University of Bratislava in Slovakia in 1942. He obtained a Master’s degree in Library Science at Columbia University in June, 1963.

While he avoided politics during the existence of the Slovak State, Dr. Staško did join the post-war Democratic Party and won election to the Prague Parliament in May of 1946. However, because he was an uncompromising autonomist who made it clear that he would not vote for Edvard Beneš as the post-war President of Czechoslovakia, the Democratic Party turned its back on him and allowed the “people’s” courts to try him on trumped-up charges. From 1946 to 1953 he was imprisoned in Leopoldov and in the Jachymov uranium mines. From 1953 to 1961 he worked as a manual laborer in various factories. He escaped to the United States in 1962, where he arrived in New York on May 24. He was married the same year. After he received his degree in library science, he found employment at the New York Public Library. He became Chief of the Periodicals Department and retired in that capacity in 1983.

Dr. Staško's special interests are history, economics and political science, and his research focuses mainly on Central European economies and political structure analysis. Dr. Staško has written and published three books: History of Techniques in Trade, 19??; Slovaks in the U.S.A., 1974; The April Agreement, 1977; he is the editor of The Shaping of Modern Slovakia, published in 1982. He has been a contributor to various journals of political and social science. He has presented many public lectures on various aspects of the Slovak question and the Slovak People.

Dr. Staško has been an active member of many political and cultural Slovak organizations; he was President of the Slovak Historical Association of America; he was editor and writer for the SKS Bulletin and for the periodical Horizont.

Dr. Staško is recognized as one of the moving forces in the preservation, defense, and development of Slovak history and culture, in Slovakia and abroad.

Information for Dr. Staško's biographical sketch was collected from:

CUSTODIAL HISTORY

Dr. Staško is responsible for the creation of this fonds, and an undetermined portion of the textual documents included in it were personally collected by Dr. Staško. In the mid-seventies, Dr. Staško launched an appeal to his Slovak compatriots and friends from all over the world, to participate in the creation of the Slovak National Archives in the United States. In response to this request, some of Dr. Staško's contemporaries donated their personal papers and other collections related to Slovak history and culture. Dr. Staško's project of the American-based Slovak National Archives did not materialize for lack of physical and financial resources. However, as a result of Dr. Staško's initiative, important documents were collected from various sources, and constitute a significant portion of the textual and non-textual materials in this fonds, especially in its Series I and IV. Until given to the University of Ottawa, documents were stored in Dr. Staško's apartment in New York, N.Y., as well as in his summer home in New Jersey.

In 1992, Dr. Staško donated the entire fonds to the Archives and Special Collections of the Library Network of the University of Ottawa. These important Slovak-American archival materials were Dr. Staško's contribution to the newly founded Chair in Slovak History and Culture at the University of Ottawa. The donation was initiated and facilitated by the first holder of the Chair, Dr. M. Mark Stolarik. Textual documents were filed in folders and shipped in 39 archival boxes (14 of 44 x 29.5 x 9 cm.; 25 of 31.5 x 24.5 x 7.5 cm.); non-textual items were in a cardboard case (30 x 29 x 7.5 cm.); audio materials were in a suitcase. All material was handed to and transported by Dr. M. Mark Stolarik.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Joseph Staško Fonds is basically a collection of personal archives from well known Slovak diplomats, politicians, professors, journalists, poets, and artists. It consists of correspondence, newspaper clippings, literary manuscripts, books, newspapers, journals, pamphlets, posters, political briefs, memoirs, minutes of meetings, constitutions of organizations, conference proceedings, etc; radio programs, poetry readings, interviews, personal conversations, songs, religious ceremonies, excerpts from speeches; many pieces of artwork (sketches, drawings, engravings, sculptures, medals); ca. 132 b&w and colour photographs of groups and of individuals; various personal effects (legal papers such as passports, naturalization papers, death certificate, health records, etc., address books, cheque books, picture frame).

These documents offer information on: the political history of Slovakia during its many regimes; the history and culture of the Slovak people living in Slovakia or abroad, especially in the United States and Canada. It provides important, and often unique information on Slovak political, cultural, and nationalist organizations aimed at the conservation and survival of the Slovak heritage. It records the Slovak people's long fight on the local, national and international scene for political recognition and protection of human rights. It gives a unique insight into the communication network of Slovak émigrés in the U.S.A., Canada, Argentina, Germany, Switzerland, Hungary, Italy, etc. It brings together part of the intellectual legacy of well known Slovak poets and artists. The most valuable characteristic of this fonds, however, is that all this priceless information is conveyed through the very words, views, and deeds of the politicians, diplomats, professors, journalists, artists and simple citizens who have experienced, first hand, the events, the hardships, and the honors attached to Slovakia's history and culture in the 20th century. Through the correspondence, the recorded informal conversations, the writings, the accounts of political actions, or the artistic legacy of great men (such as Staško, Ľúčanský, Mikuš, Sidor, Papin, Moza, Roman, Kruľiak, Kirschbaum, Paušo, Dilong, Cincík, Doránsky, Böhm, Okáľ, Strmeň, Ľamov, etc.), this fonds represents a very unique source of primary and secondary documents. Most items are in good condition.

The fonds was organised by its creator, into five major categories, called "Series":
Series I. OSOBNÝ MATERIÁL (Personal Papers), Series II. PREDMETNY MATERIÁL (Important Material), Series III. NOVINY A ASOPISY (Newspapers & Periodicals), Series IV. MAGNETOFONOVÉ PÁSKY (Magnetic Tapes), Series V. PABERKY (Miscellaneous Documents).

SERIES DESCRIPTION

of textual material. – 122 photographs. – 6 objects. (Box 199-208, 214, 1660, HF3)
This series consists of 11 files, each one gathering material on, by, or from a compatriot of Dr. Staško. Some items were collected by Dr. Staško himself, while others have been collected by the individual whose name appears on the file, and subsequently given to Dr. Staško by the individual or by his family. Series I consists mostly of correspondence.
Series I also includes photographs, personal papers, medals, personal effects, manuscripts of literary works, posters, etc. Within this Series, files and subfiles have been kept in their original order. Where no specific arrangement existed within a file, subfiles were created following a logical arrangement. See Inventory of the graphic material (X20-2ICO) and Inventory of objects (X20-2-OB) for a detailed list of these items.

Series II: Predmetny Materiál. (Important material) 1796-1904, 1946-1988. – 0,82
linear meters and 13 items of textual material. – 6 photographs. (Box 208-212)
This series is divided into five files.

Series II: File 1. Pamätnice (Souvenir Books) 1947-1987. – 0,07 linear meters of textual material. (Box 208)
This file contains memorabilia produced in relation to the celebration of significant events pertaining to the political, religious, cultural, or social heritage of Slovaks living outside Slovakia. Materials are listed in chronological order, and each item has been assigned a folder number.

Series II. File 2. Memoranda, Petitions, Appeals, Congressional Papers, etc. 1946-1988. – 0,04 linear meters of textual material. (Box 209)
This file contains texts of political interventions for the independance of Slovakia and freedom of the Slovak People. Documents have been arranged in 5 subfiles: - Memoranda, 29 items; - Petitions, 5 items; - Appeals, 12 items; - Congressional Papers, 5 items; - Propaganda leaflets, 4 items. Within each subdivision, entries are filed in chronological order (with n.d. items filed last), & individual items given a sequential folder number.

Series II. File 3. Spolkové Stampvu a Zápisnice (By-laws & Minutes of Associations). Slovak World Congress (SKS) 1958-1984. – 0.31 linear meters of textual material. (Box 209-210)
Name given to this file by Dr. Staško is somewhat misleading as it really deals only with one association, Slovak World Congress (SWK), & includes much more than just by-laws & minutes. Documents have been arranged in 7 subfiles, & cover various aspects of the SWC, from its history, creation, & constitution, to materials from its internal operations, correspondence, public activities, yearly conferences, & its Bulletin. Filing varies from one subfile to another, but within each subfile, items are arranged in chronological order. Files contain materials of different formats (letters, pamphlets, memos, minutes of meetings, publicity items, galleys, artifact, etc.).

Series II. File 4. Slovenské Kultúrné a Politické Organizácie v Zahraničí. (Political & Cultural Organizations Abroad) 1952, 1972-1984. – 0,4 linear meters of textual material. – 6 photographs. (Box 210-212)
This file is made up of three subfiles: 1) documents from/on various political & cultural associations & corporate bodies, 2) documents from/on various academic institutions & ethnic research centers, 3) documents collected by Dr. Staško as part of his involvement in the Slovak Historical Association of America, Horizont, and SKS Bulletin.

Series II. File 5. Knihy (Books) 1796-1904. – 13 items.
Dated items are listed in chronological order, followed by undated items. All the books have been catalogued and can be found through the Library catalogue and in a list placed at the end of this finding aid.

This series contains periodicals of general interest, including journals, newspapers, and newsletters, most of them published outside Slovakia by/for/about Slovaks in exile. A few titles are publications from within Slovakia. Some are published for other ethnic groups living outside their homeland. It appears that most issues of these periodicals were collected as the result of personal subscriptions by Dr. Staško. Some issues, however, seem to have been collected by other donors. Arrangement by titles' alphabetical order. Most items are brittle and in poor condition. All newspapers and periodicals have been catalogued and can be found through the Library catalogue by title and in a list placed at the end of this finding aid.

Series III. File A. General Interest Periodicals Holdings 1940-1992. – 64 items of textual material.
This series consists of 60 periodicals from various parts of the world (North and South America, Europe and Australia). Arrangement: titles in alphabetical order.

This series contains issues of various religious periodicals published by, and intended for Christian Slovaks living abroad. In most cases, items seem to have been gathered by Dr. Staško from outside sources rather than being from a personal subscription. Names of Slovak contemporaries of Dr. Staško appear on address stickers. Arrangement: titles in alphabetical order.

Series III. File C. Literary Periodicals 1949-1951, 1986, 1989. – 2 items of textual material.
This file contains only titles of literary periodicals. The bound volumes of Mladost are of particular interest. Origin of the items could not be established.

This series consists of sound recordings made by or given to Dr. Staško. They record personal conversations with friends in his or in his colleagues' homes, interviews with famous Slovak personalities, radio programs from RFE & others, poetry readings for special occasions, public lectures on Slovak questions, religious ceremonies, as well as various pieces of Slovak music. Language of documents is exclusively Slovak. This is a particularly interesting portion of the Fonds, but poor sound quality of many items limits their usefulness. The sound recordings are of various sizes, various length & on various supports. Listing arrangement is alphabetical by name of creator and/or of subject of the recording. See Inventory of the sound recordings (X20-2-SR) for a detail list of these items.

Series V: Paberky. (Miscellaneous Documents) [1897, 1912], 1922, 1949-1992. – 0.36 linear meters of textual material. – 4 photographs. (Box 212-214, HF3)
This series gathers a large number of individual pieces such as newspaper clippings, brochures, pamphlets, conference programs, personal memos, form letters, general correspondence, postcards, photographs, etc., on a variety of subjects, accumulated by Dr. Staško over a number of years. Materials in this portion of the Fonds were received "in a lump", without any specific order, thematic, chronological, or otherwise. To facilitate consultation, documents were subsequently organized in 12 subject files, with subfiles, sections, folders, or items. Within each division, entries have been organized in chronological order (except in subfile 7.2 where order is alphabetical), and given a sequential identification number. Documents in Series V are mostly in Slovak, with some in Czech, German, Russian, Hungarian, Italian, English & French. In view of this characteristic, & in order to facilitate & maximize retrieval, this portion of the Inventory is described in much more depth than the previous ones. It takes the form of a descriptive list where, under the broad subject assigned to each file & subfile, a brief explanation of content of most individual items is given along with its physical description.

The link between documents gathered in this file and the general subject matter of the Fonds, i.e. the History & Culture of the Slovak People living in Slovakia or Abroad, is very thin. The justification lies in the fact that this material dealing with American History & Life was collected & donated by Dr. Staško, a Slovak living in the U.S.A. See Inventory of the graphic material (X20-2ICO) for a detailed list of these items.

NOTES

N.B. Some items had to be removed from their original boxes or folders and placed in separate boxes for conservation purposes. This has generated changes in the finding aids for most of the boxes’ content and for some folders descriptions as well. As of 2006, researchers will find four separate finding aids for the Joseph Staško Fonds: Textual Documents, Graphic Material, Objects and Sound Recordings. We apologize for any inconvenience this may bring to researchers who have used this finding aid prior to 2006.

Note on the arrangement
The records have been described in accordance with local rules for description (based on RAD) used in other Guides and Inventories produced by ARCS; descriptions of correspondence and of literary manuscripts have been modelled on Inventory of the Papers of Robin Skelton in the University of Victoria Archives, by Anne Maclean, Victoria, 1990 ; audio materials were described according to the guidelines for "Sound recordings and oral history" in A Manual for Small Archives, by Baird and Coles, Vancouver,1988. In Series I and in part of Series II, records have been described at the "file" and "subfile" level. In a portion of Series II, and in Series III, IV, and V, records have been described at the "item" level ("item" meaning an indivisible individual document). In these cases, the greater level of description was deemed necessary to insure comprehension, and to facilitate consultation, taking into account the many languages used in the documents.

NOTE ON LANGUAGE
The fonds contains documents written mostly in Slovak, with some in Czech and in English, with a few in German, Russian, Hungarian, Italian, Swedish, and French. Because of our technical limitations, not all diacritics, especially in Slovak and in Czech, could be reproduced. We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause. When used, diacritics were ignored in the establishment of alphabetical listings.

Abbreviations used in describing literary works include "ts." for a draft in typescript form, "tss." for more than one draft in typescript form, "hol." and "hols." for one or for many handwritten drafts. Carbon copies and photocopies of drafts are identified as such. The physical extent of unpublished materials are expressed in number of "leaves", while the extent of published works (books, newspapers, journals, galley proofs, page proofs) is expressed in number of pages (p.). Other abbreviations used in the Inventory are: format of dates expressed in numbers only, "11.10.1982", this being the eleventh of October 1982; "s.l." (place of publication unknown); "n.s." (intellectual property of document or source of publication unknown); "n.d." (date of publication or of creation unknown); "incl." to indicate enclosure(s). Geographical locations are always given two levels: City-State (New York, N.Y.), or City-Province (Toronto, Ontario), or City-Country (Paris, France).

Descriptions of correspondence include the total number of letters exchanged by two individuals: (in) for "incoming" letters from the correspondent whose name is given to the file, (out) for "outgoing" letters to this person. The total number of correspondence is broken down into typed letters (tls., signed or unsigned), handwritten letters (als.), form letters (signed or unsigned), photocopies of letters (signed or unsigned), carbon copies (signed or unsigned); notes and cards are mentioned by form, with added mention of "als." or "tls." indicating handwritten or typed items. Date(s) of letter(s) are limited to year(s), giving span when appropriate. Any documents included by correspondents in their letters, are noted with the wording "Includes...". Letters addressed to the correspondent by a third person and included in the exchange between the two primary correspondents are identified by the mention "With ..." followed by a basic description of the item(s).

Most documents are in good condition. However, a certain portion of letters and some newspaper clippings were in very poor condition and needed extensive repairs. In such cases, a note was included, stating "poor condition", "very poor condition". Some of these items were put in special envelopes; in less severe cases, the item was photocopied for current usage. Some handwritten documents (especially some literary works) were particularly hard to read and sometimes impossible to decipher. A note to this effect has been included in the Inventory.

Subfile 3.2 Publications & Writings.
Explanatory notes:
Author's name. Doránsky wrote under his legal name "Ján Doránsky" & "J.L. Doránsky"; under many pen-names: J. Hárnór; J.L. Hárnór; L’Udô Hárnór; J.D. Oravec; Ján O. Ravec; J. Oravec; Ján Oravec; J.O. Ravec; "drn"; "-jed-"; "JD"; Ján Magura. He also assumed the literary identity of his fictional character "Ján Furták", the emigrant Slovak soldier in Canada.

"Published". Individual works listed under the qualifier "Published", are those for which we could assert publication, or those for which the author has indicated at least one source of publication. Some items have appeared in more than one publication, but only one reference has been given for each title. Doránsky’s poetry was published in various anthologies: Vo vyhnanstve (1947); Zdravica sv. Cyrilovi a Metodovi (1963); in literary periodicals (such as Kultúra, Most), in almanacs (such as Literárny Almanach), & in many newspapers (such as Slovák V Amerike). For further information, see "Publication sources", Folder 203.21.

"Unpublished". "Unpublished" (be it a collection or individual items) should be interpreted as "no indication by author of having been published". However, this should not be taken as an absolute, as it is likely that some of Doránsky’s works bearing no publication information, may in fact have been published as individual items in one or more newspapers, almanacs & other literary or political publications (many of these being European post-war publications). It was impossible, within this project, to investigate the publication status of each item considering: Doránsky’s huge literary production; the numerous sources in which his works could have been reproduced; the author's very poor handwriting, making the deciphering of his "Publication Sources" lists very difficult; and the absence of a comprehensive guide to Doránsky’s works. Further bibliographic work would be needed for anyone conducting exhaustive research on Doránsky’s literary legacy.

Subfile 11.1. Correspondence.
Documents in this portion of the file had been originally divided in 4 separate sections by Dr. Staško. Section A, Literary Correspondence; Section B, General Correspondence; Section C, Correspondence from Abroad; Section D, Miscellaneous Correspondence. In all sections, we further organized materials in chronological order within folders, folders arranged alphabetically by name of correspondents & then assigned a sequential number. Individual items were not numbered within each folder. In section C, country sub-divisions established by Dr. Staško were maintained & under each country, materials were organized in same manner as in other sections.

N.B. Some pieces of correspondence were discovered after original arrangement was completed. These items have thus been integrated in the main listing by adding an "a" to their numbering within the established sequence.
